A motivated and principled enthusiast of Software and all of its ecosystem. It fascinates me to see how software touches every realm of our lives and the positive impact it has had in Kenya in the recent past. My decision to get into Tech is the highlight of my life. I am dedicated to learning and push myself to learn quickly in order to implement. I understand my stack and seek to contribute positively to a team's growth. I would never have chosen a better time to get into this field.
